

Daily Outlook

GLOBAL STOCK INDEX

DJIA	Wall Street's three major indexes fell slightly after a choppy session on Tuesday as investors eyed mixed U.S. economic data and corporate news and waited for clarity on issues such as the U.S.-China trade talks. Weaker-than-expected housing data contrasted with a rosy consumer confidence report, while Home Depot Inc was among the biggest drags on the benchmark S&amp;P 500 index after the home improvement retailer blamed bad weather for missed Wall Street forecasts. Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell told a U.S. Senate Banking Committee that the central bank would remain "patient" in deciding on further interest rate hikes and that rising risks and recent soft data should not prevent solid growth for the economy this year. The indexes have already been bolstered in recent weeks by trade optimism and dovish signals from the Fed, with the S&amp;P 500's session high just 4.7 percent away from its record closing high in September. The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 33.97 points, or 0.13 percent, to 26,057.98, the S&amp;P 500 lost 2.21 points, or 0.08 percent, to 2,793.9 and the Nasdaq Composite dropped 5.16 points, or 0.07 percent, to 7,549.30. Seven of the 11 major S&amp;P sectors ended lower with industrials providing the biggest drag with a 0.3 percent drop. The benchmark's biggest boost was the technology index, which closed up 0.2 percent. The healthcare index declined 0.3 percent after a U.S. congressional hearing on the prices of medicines wrapped up in Washington. Declines in shares of health insurers Cigna Corp and UnitedHealth Group, both of which operate major pharmacy benefit managers, were big drags on the sector. The S&amp;P's biggest losing stock was JPMorgan Chase &amp; Co, which closed down 0.8 percent after it warned of rising costs for deposits, a key part of its business, and slowing global economic growth. Caterpillar Inc fell 2.4 percent and also depressed the benchmark after brokerage UBS downgraded the stock to "sell" from a "buy" rating. U.S. homebuilding tumbled to a more than two-year low in December as construction of both single and multifamily housing declined, the latest sign that the economy had lost momentum in the fourth quarter. But the Conference Board's consumer confidence index rose more than expected in February. Declining issues outnumbered advancing ones on the NYSE by a 1.29-to-1 ratio. On Nasdaq, a 1.56-to-1 ratio favored decliners. The S&amp;P 500 posted 16 new 52-week highs and one new low. The Nasdaq Composite recorded 45 new highs and 21 new lows. Volume on U.S. exchanges was 7.05 billion shares, compared to the 7.3 billion average for the last 20 trading days.
Nikkei	Japan's Nikkei share average closed slightly weaker on Tuesday, having touched its highest levels since mid-December earlier in the day before a decline in Asian stocks and selling pressure ahead of the fiscal year-end in March forced a retreat. The Nikkei ended the day down 0.37 percent at 21,449.39 after touching a high of 21,610.88, a level unseen since mid-December. MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan fell 0.5 percent on Tuesday as its recent run to a five-month high ran out of steam. The 21,700 mark for the Nikkei lies halfway between a 27-year peak of 24,448 scaled in October and a 20-month trough of 18,948 plumbed in December.
Kospi	South Korea's KOSPI stock index dipped on Tuesday as investors eye the summit between the United States and North Korea. The Korean won strengthened, while the benchmark bond yield fell. The Seoul stock market's main index closed down 5.96 points or 0.27 percent at 2,226.60 points. U.S. President Donald Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong Un will hold their second summit in the Vietnamese capital of Hanoi on Feb 27-28. Foreigners were net buyers of 20.9 billion won worth of shares on the main board. The won was quoted at 1,118.6 per dollar on the onshore settlement platform, 0.21 percent higher than its previous close at 1,121.0. In offshore trading, the won was quoted at 1,118.6 per U.S. dollar, down 0.3 percent from the previous day, while in one-year non-deliverable forward trading its one-month contract was quoted at 1,117.7 per dollar. MSCI's broadest index of Asia-Pacific shares outside Japan rose 0.91 percent, after U.S. stocks gained in previous session Japanese stocks fell 0.37 percent. The KOSPI has risen 9.09 percent so far this year, gaining 8.1 percent in the previous 30 trading sessions.

	The current price-to-earnings ratio is 12.10, the dividend yield is 1.28 percent and the market capitalisation is 1,242.04 trillion won.
Hang Seng	● Hong Kong stocks fell on Tuesday, tracking a correction in Asian markets, as investors waited to see if Washington and Beijing can clinch a trade deal. The Hang Seng index fell 0.7 percent to 28,772.06, while the China Enterprises Index lost 0.8 percent to 11,543.95 points. President Donald Trump said on Sunday he would delay a tariff hike on $200 billion of Chinese imports in the clearesyt sign yet that both sides were making progress in the talks, but he also sounded a note of caution, saying a deal "could happenfairly soon, or it might not happen at all." ● Chinese stocks fell on Tuesday in heavy volume as some investors took profits on heavyweight financial shares, betting the market's recent spectacular surge is unsustainable. But optimists believe the correction provides a good entry point, hailing Monday's nearly 6 percent jump in the blue-chip CSI300 Index as the start of a new wave of buying. The CSI300 index moved roughly 1 percent on either side before settling down 1.2 percent lower at 3,684.69 points, while the Shanghai Composite Index fell 0.7 percent to 2,941.52. The CSI300's rise on Monday was its biggest one-day gain in three years. Trading turnover totalled 1.07 trillion yuan ($160 billion), exceeding Monday's 1.04 trillion yuan and the highest level in more than three years. After a mauling in 2018, China stocks have surged about 20 percent so far this year, driven by a combination of factors including progress in Sino-U.S. trade talks, Beijing's monetary easing to prop up the slowing economy and foreign money inflows. U.S. President Donald Trump said on Monday negotiators were "very, very close" to a deal. But Trump also sounded a note of caution, saying a deal "could happen fairly soon, or it might not happen at all." There are signs risk appetite is rapidly improving, with some investors scrambling to buy stocks for fear of missing out on the rally. Outstanding margin financing business at brokerages has been climbing steadily this month, while investors have also been borrowing money in the grey market to buy equities, drawing the attention of regulators. Late on Monday, China's securities watchdog urged stricter monitoring of unusual stock trading after reports of increasing grey-market margin financing.
