

Daily Outlook

GLOBAL STOCK INDEX

DJIA	U.S. stocks slumped on Thursday as investors dumped shares of companies in growth and cyclical sectors, with energy and technology leading declines, on fears that the escalating U.S.-China trade war would stymie global economic growth. Further fueling trade fears among investors, Beijing said that Washington needs to correct its "wrong actions" for trade talks to continue after the United States blacklisted Huawei Technology Co Ltd last week. Among S&amp;P 500 sectors, only utilities and real estate, both considered defensive areas, registered gains as investors moved to safe-haven assets such as Treasuries. Stocks pared losses in the last hour of trading, but Wall Street's major indexes all ended more than 1% lower. Shares of S&amp;P 500 technology and industrial companies, two sectors that have been bellwethers of trade sentiment, fell 1.7% and 1.6%, respectively. Shares of S&amp;P 500 companies in the cyclical financial and energy sectors also tumbled, with the 3.1% drop in energy shares leading losses among S&amp;P 500 sectors. A 5% plunge in oil prices in response to a dampened outlook for demand impeded energy shares while a drop in 10-year Treasury yields, which hit their lowest level since October 2017, held back financial shares. Adding to the downbeat mood in markets, data from IHS Markit showed U.S. manufacturing faltered in May, with new orders falling for the first time since August 2009. The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 286.14 points, or 1.11%, to 25,490.47, the S&amp;P 500 lost 34.03 points, or 1.19%, to 2,822.24 and the Nasdaq Composite dropped 122.56 points, or 1.58%, to 7,628.28. Stocks succumbed to selling pressure in May after Washington and Beijing engaged in tit-for-tat tariffs and other retaliatory measures, with the S&amp;P 500 on track to post its first monthly decline since the December sell-off. Shares of NetApp Inc tumbled 8.1%, the biggest percentage drop on the S&amp;P 500, after the data storage equipment maker forecast current-quarter profit and revenue below Wall Street estimates. L Brands Inc shares jumped 12.8% after the owner of Victoria's Secret and Bath &amp; Body Works reported better-than-expected quarterly earnings. Declining issues outnumbered advancing ones on the NYSE by a 3.26-to-1 ratio; on Nasdaq, a 3.84-to-1 ratio favored decliners. The S&amp;P 500 posted 28 new 52-week highs and 27 new lows; the Nasdaq Composite recorded 22 new highs and 189 new lows. Volume on U.S. exchanges was 7.61 billion shares, compared to the 6.99 billion-share average for the full session over the last 20 trading days.
Nikkei	Japan's Nikkei dropped on Thursday after renewed U.S.-China trade tensions dragged down technology shares, while index-heavyweight SoftBank Group fell more than 5 percent. The Nikkei share average ended 0.6% lower at 21,151.14. Tech shares were sold heavily after media reports on Wednesday said the United States was considering sanctions on video surveillance firm Hikvision. TDK Corp dived 6.5%, Advantest Corp declined 2.6%, Tokyo Electron shed 2.5%, and Sony Corp slid 3.7%. SoftBank Group, which has a stake in Sprint Corp, tanked 5.3%, removing 62 points from the Nikkei benchmark index after sources told Reuters that U.S. Justice Department's antitrust division staff have recommended the agency blocks T-Mobile US Inc's $26 billion acquisition of smaller rival Sprint. Elsewhere, Daiichi Sankyo Co which was trading in negative territory in early trade, rose 1.2%. Driving the increase was a report from Nikkei Business that said the drugmaker was in talks with several companies to sell its wholly owned over-the-counter drug unit for around 100 billion yen ($900 million). Discount clothing chain Nishimatsuya Chain Co surged 3.2% after its same-store sales in May rose 7.5% from a year earlier, thanks to strong sales in summer clothes as the weather was warm during Japan's Golden Week holidays. The broader Topix declined 0.4% to 1,540.58. Declining issues outnumbered advancing ones 1,258 to 783.
Kospi	South Korea's KOSPI stock index fell on Thursday on growing anxiety over the Sino-U.S. conflicts involving Huawei Technologies, with the spillover impact dragging on a South Korean telecom operator. The Seoul stock market's main KOSPI closed down 5.27 points, or 0.26%, at 2,059.59. South Korean telecom operator LG Uplus Corp, which uses Huawei gears, lost 6.4% on a local media report which said the U.S. government was lobbying Seoul not to use Huawei products amid a wider push by Washington to get its allies to boycott the Chinese telecom giant. British chip designer ARM halted relations with Huawei to comply with a U.S. blockade of the company, potentially crippling the Chinese telecom company's ability to make new chips for its future

	smartphones. Japan's Panasonic Corp said it has stopped shipments of certain components to Huawei Technologies to comply with U.S. restrictions on the Chinese company. Foreigners were net buyers of 85.3 billion won ($71.70 million) worth of shares on the main board. The KOSPI has risen 0.91% so far this year, but has lost 6.6% in the previous 30 trading sessions. The current price-to-earnings ratio is 12.10, the dividend yield is 1.28% and the market capitalisation is 1,242.04 trillion won. The trading volume during the session on the KOSPI index was 500.23 million shares and, of the total traded issues of 896, the number of advancing shares was 218. The won has lost 6.2% against the U.S dollar so far this year.
Hang Seng &amp; Shanghai	➤ Hong Kong stocks dropped to four-month lows on Thursday, dragged by technology shares, as worries mount that the Sino-U.S. trade conflict could fast turn into a technology cold war and threaten global economic growth. The Hang Seng index fell 1.6% to 27,267.13, while the China Enterprises Index lost 1.9% to 10,401.11. After the United States placed Huawei Technologies on a trade blacklist last week, Reuters reported late on Wednesday the U.S. administration was considering Huawei-like sanctions on Chinese video surveillance firm Hikvision over the country's treatment of its Uighur Muslim minority. Hong Kong's technology shares tumbled nearly 4%. Index heavyweight Tencent Holdings slumped 3.8% to a four-month low in its sixth straight session of decline. Hong Kong-listed Huawei suppliers including Sunny Optical Technology, AAC Technologies Holdings Inc and Q Technology (Group) Co Ltd fell sharply. ➤ China's blue-chip stock index dropped to a three-month closing low on Thursday, as investors dumped technology shares amid worries a growing number of Chinese firms in the hi-tech sector could bear the brunt of an escalating trade war with the United States. The blue-chip CSI300 index fell 1.8%, to 3,583.96, the lowest closing level since February 22. The Shanghai Composite Index lost 1.4% to 2,852.52. Technology shares led the decline, with an index tracking the sector down 3.5%. Late Wednesday, Reuters reported the U.S. administration was considering Huawei-like sanctions on Chinese video surveillance firm Hikvision over the country's treatment of its Uighur Muslim minority. Hikvision shares extended steep losses, slumping 5.8%. Another security equipment manufacturer Zhejiang Dahua Technology Co Ltd tumbled 4.6%. Shares of Huawei suppliers continued to tank. After the United States placed Huawei Technologies on a trade blacklist last week, British chip designer ARM has halted relations with Huawei in order to comply with the blockade. Suppliers including Luxshare Precision Industry, Shenzhen Sunway Communication Co Ltd, Shennan Circuits and Shenzhen Goodix Technology Co. Ltd. all fell sharply. Bucking the broad selloff, shares of China's semiconductor firms jump on Thursday, as Beijing rolls out supportive measures to bolster the development of the key industry. Beijing's preferential tax treatment to China's chip design and software industry bolstered shares in Hunan Goke Microelectronics, Ningbo Kangqiang Electronics Co Ltd and Shenzhen Fine Made Electronics Group Co Ltd. China-listed rare earth firms, including Innuovo Technology Co Ltd and JL MAG Rare-Earth Co Ltd continued to rise sharply, amid speculation the sector could be the next front in the trade war. Rising tensions between the United States and China have sparked concerns that Beijing could use its dominant position as a supplier of rare earths for leverage in the trade war between the two global economic powers.
