GLOBAL STOCK INDEX

DJIA	Wall Street lost ground on Tuesday after a warning from President Donald Trump to China amid ongoing trade negotiations pressured technology shares, while investors looked to an expected Federal Reserve interest rate cut at the conclusion of its monetary policy meeting. The three major U.S. stock indexes concluded the session in the red, pressured by technology and consumer discretionary stocks. As trade talks between the world's two biggest economies continued in Shanghai on Tuesday, Trump warned China against trying to wait out his first term in office to finalize a deal. Apple Inc's results could illuminate the impact of the trade tensions with China. Shares of the iPhone maker closed down 0.4%, contributing the most to the tech sector's 0.7% drop. Market participants are looking to the Fed's statement at the conclusion of its two-day meeting on Wednesday for clues as to how the central bank will proceed through year-end. Many analysts said a 25-basis-point cut in interest rates is fully priced into the market. Commerce Department data showed U.S. consumer spending and prices rose moderately in June, pointing to slower economic growth and bolstering the case for monetary easing. The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 23.33 points, or 0.09%, to 27,198.02, the S&P 500 lost 7.79 points, or 0.26%, to 3,013.18 the Nasdaq Composite dropped 19.72 points, or 0.24%, to 8,273.61. More than half of the S&P 500 companies have released second-quarter earnings, of which 75.9% have beat bottom-line analyst expectations, according to Refinitiv data.
Nikkei	Japanese shares advanced on Tuesday, led by technology firms, as investors looked beyond sluggish earnings in the previous quarter and bet on a potential recovery over the coming seasons. The Nikkei share average rose 0.43% to 21,709.31, edging near its 2-1/2-month high of 21,823 touched last week. A case in point was chip-making machine manufacturer Screen Holdings, which jumped 3.5% even though the company cut its annual net profit estimate by 5.6%, citing weaker sales in its printing-related businesses and rising costs. Investors were also buying up other tech shares that had been hit by concerns over intensifying frictions between the United States and China over trade and technological issues. Fanuc Corp climbed 3.1% as its quarterly results beat analyst expectations even though the robot maker cut its annual profit estimates on uncertainties from trade frictions. Hitachi was another counterintuitive mover, as the shares of the manufacturing conglomerate rose 3.0% despite reporting a 16.0% fall in quarterly operating profit, due to worsening market for smart phone and car related materials. Kawasaki Heavy Industries followed the normal script of getting ditched on weak earnings, diving 5.7% after the transportation and heavy equipment maker reported the first quarterly net loss in 10 years for the April-June period. Japan's industrial output also fell a bigger-than-expected 3.6% to 1-1/2-year lows in June but that did not shake investors' confidence either. More companies including Sony, Nintendo and Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group, are due to announce earnings after market close on Tuesday. Earlier in the day, the Bank of Japan held off on expanding stimulus but signalled its readiness to do so "without hesitation," if a global slowdown jeopardizes the country's economic recovery. Growing fallout from the U.S.-China trade war has prompted major central banks to signal more easing and put pressure on the BOJ, which has far less policy ammunition left to deal with a significant downturn. The Federal Reserve is widely expected to cut its interest rates on Wednesday for the first time since the financial crisis more than a decade ago.
Kospi	South Korean shares climbed on Tuesday recouping some of the previous day's sharp losses, but uncertainties remained high amid a worsening diplomatic and economic spat with Japan, ahead of the U.S. Federal Reserve's policy meeting. The Korean won strengthened, while the benchmark bond yield fell. The U.S. Fed will begin a two-day policy meeting later in the day, at which it is widely expected to lower interest rates by 25 basis points. If implemented, it would be the central bank's first rate cut in a decade. Japan is preparing for cabinet approval as early as Friday to remove South Korea from the so-called white list status with minimum trade restrictions, Japanese media reported last week. Uncertainty has persisted over the relationship with Japan, said Cho Byung-hyun, an analyst at Yuanta Securities Korea, noting that eyes will now be on developments from the Asean Regional Forum (ARF).

	Officials from Seoul and Tokyo will be in Bangkok this week for the ARF. South Korean foreign minister Kang Kyung-wha said she is “highly likely” to meet with Japan’s Taro Kono as well as U.S. Secretary of State Mike Pompeo during the ASEAN forum. Amid a deepening row between neighbours, South Korea’s underwear makers surged as South Korean boycott of Japanese clothing brands intensified, making the textile sub-index the biggest percentage gainer among KOSPI sub-indexes with a 2.5% rise. Shares of Monami jumped as much as 26.2% on Tuesday, before it ended up 12.9%, as investors expected the stationery maker’s sales to grow as customers boycott Japanese pens. Shares of Dual Industrial tumbled nearly 30% after the auto parts maker dropped its bid to buy a stake in SG BKG Group, owner of South Korea’s leading virtual currency exchange Bithumb. The Seoul stock market’s main KOSPI index ended up 9.20 points or 0.45% at 2,038.68. The benchmark index shed nearly 2% on Monday as tensions with Japan added pressure on the export-dependent economy.
Hang Seng & Shanghai	Hong Kong shares closed higher on Tuesday as investors awaited an expected U.S. interest rate cut this week, while Sino-U.S. trade negotiations are due to begin later in the day. The Hang Seng index rose 0.1%, to 28,146.50 points, while the China Enterprises Index gained 0.4%, to 10,818.35. The U.S. Federal Reserve is scheduled to begin a two-day policy meeting later on Tuesday, at which it is widely expected to lower interest rates by 25 basis points. If implemented, it would be the central bank’s first rate cut in a decade. Also in focus were U.S.-China trade talks due to begin in Shanghai on Tuesday, although expectations for progress during the two-day meeting are low with the markets hoping the two sides can at least detail commitments for “goodwill” gestures. Around the region, MSCI’s Asia ex-Japan stock index was firmer by 0.19%, while Japan’s Nikkei index closed up 0.43%. The yuan was quoted at 6.8843 per U.S. dollar at 08:15 GMT, 0.12% firmer than the previous close of 6.8926. The top gainers among H-shares were New China Life Insurance Co Ltd up 2.73%, followed by China Pacific Insurance Group Co Ltd, gaining 2.55% and PICC Property and Casualty Co Ltd, up by 2.22%. The three biggest H-shares percentage decliners were SINOPHARM GROUP CO LTD, which was down 1.68%, Guangdong Investment Ltd, which fell 1.32% and Anhui Conch Cement Co Ltd, down by 1.1%. About 1.18 billion Hang Seng index shares were traded, roughly 88.7% of the market’s 30-day moving average of 1.33 billion shares a day. The volume traded in the previous trading session was 1.61 billion. At close, China’s A-shares were trading at a premium of 29.69% over Hong Kong-listed H-shares.
